

Instructions for Authors: 09/05/23

Dear Authors,

Please use these guidelines to submit original articles to be considered for publication in the Islamophobia Studies Journal.

The Islamophobia Studies Journal is a bi-annual, double-blind peer-reviewed publication that focuses on the critical analysis of Islamophobia and its multiple manifestations in our contemporary moment.

ISJ is an interdisciplinary and multi-lingual academic journal that encourages submissions that theorize the historical, political, economic, and cultural phenomenon of Islamophobia in relation to the construction, representation, and articulation of "Otherness." The ISJ is an open scholarly exchange, exploring new approaches, methodologies, and contemporary issues.

The ISJ encourages submissions that closely interrogate the ideological, discursive, and epistemological frameworks employed in processes of "Otherness"—the complex social, political, economic, gender, sexual, and religious forces that are intimately linked in the historical production of the modern world from the dominance of the colonial/imperial north to the post-colonial south. At the heart of ISJ is an intellectual and collaborative project between scholars, researchers, and community agencies to recast the production of knowledge about Islamophobia away from a dehumanizing and subordinating framework to an emancipatory and liberatory one for all peoples in this far-reaching and unfolding domestic and global process.

Types of Articles Accepted

Journal articles, book chapters, multiple authors, online journal articles, magazine articles, newspaper articles, book reviews, dissertations, papers.

Submission Process

Articles should be submitted and should be sent to: hatemb@berkeley.edu

Submission and Peer Review Process

Articles will be first subject to a desk-review for journal suitability and clarity by a member of the Editorial Board. A double-anonymous (commonly termed 'double-blind') review will be performed by at least two reviewers. Other than in exceptional circumstances, one reviewer will always be a member of the Editorial Board. We will strive for an average time for review of 12 weeks from point of submission. Publication decisions will be made by a sub-group of the Editorial Board. Authors may appeal a decision of Reject once only. Any final decision will rest with the Editorial Board.

Publishing Ethics

The journal adheres to the ethical standards endorsed by the Committee on Publication Ethics (<https://publicationethics.org/>). In particular:

1. We expect all authors to state in their article if they have a conflict of interest which could potentially bias their opinions - for example funding or employment.
2. All named authors on the articles should confirm that they have jointly participated in the research and writing of the article, and that no author has been omitted from the list of authors.
3. We require authors to warrant that their articles are original, have not been previously published, and do not plagiarise or otherwise copy someone else's work without attribution. (If the article is a translation, we are happy to consider this for publication but the authors must inform the editors on submission.)
4. We also require authors to warrant that their article does not defame, libel, or bring another person into disrepute, and neither does it contain anything illegal (e.g. copyright infringing)

Copyright

Authors of accepted papers grant the Journal and Pluto Journals, publisher of the Journal, the Rights to publish under Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International \(CC BY 4.0\). Authors will receive a Copyright Form for electronic signature upon the acceptance of the article for publication to agree to the Pluto Journals Author Agreement. Moral rights will be retained by the original Author(s) and copyright will be held by the authors. Authors will be asked to affirm that their submission is original, has not previously been published, and does not plagiarise or otherwise copy someone else's work without attribution.
