

Dear Librarian/Library Acquisition Committee,

I am writing to recommend the Pluto Journals Diamond Open Access collection for your library's collection. This collection includes 20 Open Access titles that cover a wide range of topics in the social sciences.

I recommend the Pluto Journals collection for the following reasons [delete where appropriate]:

- I support Open Access because it provides free and unrestricted access to articles, ensuring that research articles and scholarly content is made freely available to readers without any paywalls or subscription fees. This unrestricted access allows a wider audience, including researchers, students, policymakers, and the general public, to benefit from the knowledge and findings presented in the research.
- I believe that Open Access is an equitable and sustainable model for publishing.
- I am an author of [Journal Title], affiliated with [University name].
- I will refer to the journals frequently for my research work, and I will regularly refer my students to the journals to assist their studies.
- I am also a contributor or member of the Editorial Board to a Pluto Journals title, so I have a personal investment in the success of this collection.

I urge you to consider including the Pluto Journals collection in your next serials review meeting.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
